

by Windows Live

Read about what's coming in the ARTS!

From: Arts Clayton (artline@artsclayton.org)

Sent: Mon 9/22/08 9:05 AM

To: artline@artsclayton.org

Attachments: image001.gif (0.1 KB)

Security scan upon download

Arts Clayton is pleased to support events in our local arts community.

Please help us by planning to attend, participate and/or by sharing forwarded information about these events with your family, friends, neighbors and co-workers! Be sure to mention that you learned about these events through Arts Clayton!

For more information and news about the Arts in our Community, visit the Arts Clayton website at www.artsclayton.org!

the Southside ARTS Agenda

News About The ARTS in the Southern Crescent

Volume 4 Issue 12 - September 22, 2008

Good morning!

Photos From the Fall Benefit Concert

Voices

beautiful sounds that open the hearts of humankind...

Thank you to ALL who made the FALL BENEFIT CONCERT
a memorable and successful evening!

María Pia Ugarte, Artistic Director

Hair Design, Carlos Salon

Zaphyra's Wardrobe

Grand Piano Provided by

Performance & Stage Management Provided by

Matt Elliott, Stage Management

<http://voicesonline.org>

Lakme's "Flower Song"
performed by Zaphyra - Paige
McCauley, María Pia Ugarte,
Jill Safko

"Georgia on My Mind" performed by the Southern Nights Chorale and conducted by J. D. Holmes

"Phantom of the Opera"
medley performed by
Matthew Roberts

"Somewhere" from West Side Story
performed by Zaphyra - Paige
McCauley, Jill Safko, María Pia
Ugarte,

Finale - "Time to Say Goodbye" with all performers, Allison Chambers, Paige
McCauley, María Pia Ugarte, Megan Zerbe,
Jill Safko, Matthew Roberts and the Southern Night Chorale; conducted by J. D. Holmes

CATCH A RISING STAR

Matthew Roberts

The Voices concert on September 6 prominently featured a talented young man who provided a special touch to the elegance of the evening. This was his second appearance with Voices since he joined the group in 2007 and we are looking forward to hearing his mastery of the violin again soon!

If you haven't heard 16 year old Matthew Roberts draw music from his violin you are missing true virtuosity. Matthew began studying the violin under Ms. Julie Baumgardner and Mr. James McCall in Macon at the age of six. Four years later, after moving to Fayetteville, he has continued his studies under Mr. David Dillard, a violinist with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

Matthew, a junior at St. Pius X high school, has performed in the Georgia All-State Orchestra for the past 5 years and was concert master at the Georgia Music Educators Association summer camp in 2006.

So why the violin? "My parents were my initial inspiration. When I was a youngster they listened to concerts on TV and radio. I loved the sound of the violin because it is so expressive. It can practically talk when played correctly. I'm also teaching myself to play the organ and piano. It's been a rather slow process because I'm not real big on practice! I try to get in between 45" and an hour every day, more when I am getting ready for a concert. School work keeps me pretty busy and the commute to St. Pius every day eats up a good deal of time!"

Becoming a musician with a principal symphony is not currently in the plan for Matt's future. "I haven't decided on a major however I will minor in music and plan to apply to Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia."

"The violin provides a certain level of self expression when playing a piece. Of course every composition has sound markers which the musician needs to pay attention to. However, as an interpreter of the score you can incorporate your own feelings into how the composer meant it to sound."

"I love entertaining an audience because of the satisfaction and sense of completion it provides to me. Moving an audience through my music is a wonderful feeling! Making an impression on them is why I play! I hope I never look out on an audience where someone has fallen asleep - that would be devastating! My Dad plays the piano, has been since he was four years old, and he sometimes accompanies me. That's something I really enjoy."

Listening to Matt play is something the audience at the Voices concert certainly enjoyed as well! When you have an opportunity to hear this young virtuoso we know you will agree.